

NEWS RELEASE:

Ian Wenman has taken a position on the Board of Meeson Williams as non-executive director.

“Over the last 25 years I have had the joy of working with small businesses and watching them thrive. I have known Meeson Williams throughout this time and recognised the same vital ingredients; a client list which would be coveted by much larger firms and an exciting portfolio of projects.” remarks Ian. “Taking the last 12 months, through a difficult market they acquired, let and sold over 650,000 sq ft of buildings for clients and conducted rent reviews and lease renewals on properties with a cumulative rent in excess of £2m, including advising on the sale of the Windrush Industrial Park in Witney.”

“The groundwork has already been put in place for the next stage of growth, which includes the formation of Meeson Williams PBS offering building surveying and town planning services as well as being elected as the regional representative for the national network independent surveying practises called PAI. “
